UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE / Business & Defense Services Administration

The United States exported $155,017,979 in photographic products in 1963 and imported $83,218,432. Exports set a new record, exceeding 1962 shipments ($129,255,736) by about 20 percent (tables 1 and 2). Imports declined for the first time since 1955, largely because of a drop in purchases of still picture cameras from West Germany and Japan and of sensitized photographic paper from Belgium.

Still photographic goods again comprised the greater part of U.S. exports--72.6 percent compared with 70 percent in 1962. Value of these products was $112,585,085, about 25 percent higher than in 1962. Still picture cameras, still projectors, and photocopying equipment were among the products which showed unusual increases in exports in 1963.

Exports of motion picture film and equipment were valued at $42,432,894, higher than in 1962 by slightly more than 8 percent. Shipments of 8-mm. motion picture cameras and projectors continued to increase; projector exports in 1963 were almost double their 1962 value.

Value of sensitized materials exported in 1963 was $86,987,194, 15.6 percent higher than in 1962. These products comprised 56.1 percent of total 1963 exports of photographic goods (table 2).

Regional distribution of exports remained the same as in 1962. Europe continued to be the number one purchaser, buying $65,913,711 in photographic goods, 42.5 percent of the total and 31.4 percent more than the 1962 total of $50,173,273. Canada, the second largest purchaser, bought 18 percent of total exports; Latin America, 16.1 percent; Asia, 16 percent; Oceania, 4 percent; and Africa, 3.4 percent (table 3).

Canada purchased $27,952,596 of U.S. photographic goods in 1963, 4.3 percent more than in 1962 but 1.8 percent less than in 1961. Japan's purchases went up from $9,618,273 in 1962 to $13,243,708 in 1963. Other key markets were the United Kingdom (purchases of $11,369,112 compared with $7,277,595 in 1962) and West Germany (purchases of $10,196,203 compared with $6,742,594 in 1962). The 22 countries which accounted for 85.9 percent of total purchases in 1962 accounted for 86.9 percent of total purchases in 1963 (table 4).

Purchases by the Common Market countries have been increasing rapidly. In 1963 they totaled $30,787,041, almost double the 1960 total of $15,664,028. Of the 1963 purchases, 52.7 percent was in photographic equipment (slightly more than in 1962) and 47.3 percent in sensitized goods. The largest share--33.1 percent--of Common Market purchases went to West Germany, which increased its imports in 1963 by 51.2 percent over 1962. France's share--25.8 percent--represented $7,946,033 in purchases, 46.8 percent more than in 1962. Italy's purchases totaled $4,669,254, 15.2 percent of 1963 shipments to the Common Market countries; Belgium's amounted to $4,608,163; and Netherlands', $3,367,388, only slightly higher than 1962 purchases of $3,273,999 (table 5).

Data on U.S. imports of photographic products in 1963 (tables 22A and 22B) are not completely comparable with those of previous years (tables 1 and 21) because of the change from the Schedule A import classification system to the Tariff Schedule of the United States (TSUS) system which went into effect beginning September 1963. The TSUS classifications are considerably more detailed than the Schedule A classifications. Under the TSUS system, imports of black and white and color films and paper are shown separately (rather than grouped under the classification photographic film and paper), and reporting of imports of motion picture and still cameras is more refined. The TSUS system also established new classifications for imports of motion picture projectors, editors, viewers and titlers, splicers, lens caps and hoods, photographic filters, projection screens, film reels and cans, frames or mounts for slides, half-tone screens and photofinishing equipment and specialties. Differences between the two classification systems are illustrated in table 22A and table 22B, which show, respectively, imports of photographic goods by Schedule A classifications for the first 8 months of 1963 and by TSUS classifications for the last 4 months.

EXPORTS BY PRODUCT CLASSIFICATION

STILL PHOTOGRAPHIC EQUIPMENT, SUPPLIES, AND ACCESSORIES

Cameras

Exports of still picture cameras turned sharply upward in 1963, totaling 1,166,936 units valued at $9,179,693 compared with 494,767 units valued at $5,372,086 in 1962 (table 6). Fewer studio, commercial, and scientific cameras were sold abroad, but the value of exports of these products was slightly more than 4 percent higher than in 1962. Canada, the leading country purchaser, bought 944 cameras valued at $577,489; West Germany, next in rank, bought 721 valued at $345,407. Other markets were the United Kingdom, France, Australia, and Japan.

Fixed-Focus, Hand-Type Cameras.--Exports of fixed-focus, hand-type cameras jumped from 301,052 units valued at $796,667 in 1962 to 986,018 units valued at $3,706,882 in 1963. The principal markets were West Germany, France, Switzerland, Belgium, and Canada, in that order.

Variable-Focus, Hand-Type Cameras.--Fewer variable-focus, hand-type cameras were exported in 1963 than in 1962 by 6.6 percent, but the value of these exports was 39.2 percent greater than the value of 1962 exports. Shipments to Canada, the leading market, decreased decidedly, but those to France, the United Kingdom, Sweden, West Germany, and Italy were substantially higher.

Camera Parts and Accessories

Exports of camera parts and accessories, valued at $5,641,101, were 42.2 percent higher than in 1962 and 35.5 percent higher than in 1961 (table 7). Canada's share of the total dropped to 29.8 percent compared with 33.2 percent in 1962, but the value of its purchases was 27.9 percent higher than in 1962 and 19 percent higher than in 1961. Exports to the United Kingdom, France, West Germany, and Australia increased substantially.

Still Picture Projectors

Exports of still picture projectors increased; 46,588 units valued at $3,257,510 were sold abroad compared with 43,134 valued at $2,761,259 in 1962 (table 8). Purchases by Canada, the principal market, increased from 24,159 units valued at $1,203,287 in 1962 to 25,671 units valued at $1,287,962. Units and value of purchases by Mexico, Sweden, Australia, and the United Kingdom were substantially higher than in 1962.

Photographic and Projection Lenses

Fewer photographic and projection lenses were exported in 1963 than in 1962 by 31.1 percent, but the value of these exports was 18 percent higher than the value of 1962 exports. The value of shipments to Canada, the United Kingdom, Mexico, and West Germany also was higher (table 9).

Cartridge or Roll Film.--The upward trend in exports of sensitized, unexposed cartridge and roll film continued in 1963; 24,590,363 square feet valued at $17,697,830 were sold abroad, compared with 20,053,645 square feet valued at $13,559,458 in 1962 (table 10). Canada and Italy took fewer rolls and cartridges than in 1962, but the value of their purchases was 14.9 and 64.7 percent higher, respectively, than in the previous year. In other important markets--Switzerland, Sweden, Mexico, West Germany, and Japan--both quantity and value of purchases increased.

X-Ray Film.--X-ray film exports declined for the third consecutive year. Canada, whose purchases of X-ray film had dropped in 1962, increased its imports in 1963, buying 5,983,607 square feet valued at $1,889,883, 17 percent more in quantity and 21.2 percent more in value than in 1962. Sales to Argentina, Mexico, Switzerland, and the Netherlands increased; sales to Brazil and Austria declined.

Still Picture Film, Not Elsewhere Classified (n.e.c.).--A new record was set in exports of still picture film, n.e.c. Sales totaled $16,085,243--20.5 percent and 46.5 percent higher, respectively, than in 1962 and 1961. Japan, still the leading foreign market, bought $3,577,925, more than double 1962 purchases and three times 1961 purchases. Other important markets were West Germany ($1,754,725), Canada ($1,527,600), Switzerland ($1,013,636), Mexico ($952,754), and the United Kingdom ($804,522). Sales to all but Canada were higher than in 1962.

Sensitized Photographic Paper

Silver Halide Type.--Exports of silver halide paper--$13,416,854--were nearly 17 percent higher than in 1962 (table 11). Sales to Canada, again the leading market, dropped 20 percent to $2,165,695 from $2,705,795 in 1962. Mexico increased its purchases from $1,743,256 in 1962 to $1,862,188. Sales to the next 12 leading markets accounted for $6,454,072 of total exports in 1963 compared with $4,505,435 in 1962.

Other Than Silver Halide.--Exports of sensitized photographic paper other than silver halide exceeded 1962 shipments by 72.8 percent and were nearly double those of 1961. Canada's purchases increased again, but the largest gains--several times the 1962 totals--were in shipments to West Germany, the United Kingdom, France, Italy, and Sweden.

Photographic Reproduction Equipment

Microfilm Equipment and Parts.--Exports of microfilm equipment and parts amounted to $2,889,116 compared with $2,615,615 in 1962 (table 12).

Increases in shipments to the United Kingdom, France, and West Germany account for the gain, as shipments to Canada, Japan, and Italy declined.

Photocopy Equipment and Parts.--A new record was set in exports of photocopy equipment and parts. Sales totaled $7,643,881, compared with $5,032,035 in 1962 and $4,539,897 in 1961 (table 13). Canada, the leading market, purchased $2,834,389, an increase of 40.7 percent over 1962; sales to the United Kingdom almost tripled, rising from $370,192 in 1962 to $1,037,617. Other important markets were France, Italy, West Germany, and Australia.

Other Photographic Goods

Photographic Processing and Finishing Equipment and Parts, n.e.c.--The continuing increase in exports of U.S. photographic processing and finishing equipment attests to foreign recognition of the excellence of these products. In 1958 exports totaled $4,703,782; in 1963 they had increased to $10,641,885 (table 14). Of the 13 leading markets, all but Canada and Italy increased their purchases.

Photographic Transparencies on Film and Glass.--Sales of photographic transparencies on film and glass continued to decline, although the drop in 1963 exports was slight--to $2,146,361 from $2,291,713 in 1962 (table 15). Canada, Australia, Saudi Arabia, and West Germany increased their purchases in 1963, but the United Kingdom, Belgium and Japan took less.

Photographic Projection Goods, Accessories, and Supplies, n.e.c.--Exports of these products in 1963 were valued at $5,342,848, a small decrease from the 1962 total of $5,538,579 (table 16). Canadian purchases continued to decline; their value in 1963--$2,445,724--was 14.5 percent lower than the 1962 total. Other leading markets were United Kingdom, Taiwan, Japan, and France.

MOTION PICTURE EQUIPMENT AND FILM

Motion Picture Cameras

Exports of motion picture cameras in 1963 were about 8 percent higher than in 1962--$4,054,678, compared with $3,764,962--due largely to the rise in dollar value of exports of 8-mm. motion picture cameras (table 17). Exports of 8-mm. cameras to France, the leading market, were more than 6 percent higher in dollar value, although some 11,700 fewer cameras were bought than in 1962. Exports of 8-mm. cameras to the United Kingdom and Italy rose sharply and shipments to Canada increased, but those to Sweden, Switzerland, Australia, and West Germany declined. Exports of cameras 35-mm. and over increased in 1963, but sales of 16-mm. cameras were down about 17 percent from the 1962 level.

Motion Picture Projectors

Exports of motion picture projectors, in a gradual decline since 1960, turned upward in 1963, rising some 24 percent above 1962 exports. A 90-percent jump in exports of 8-mm. projectors accounted for almost all of this increase; 1963 exports of these projectors were valued at $2,389,601 and 1962 sales at $1,255,831 (table 18). Large gains were made in exports of 8-mm. projectors to the United Kingdom, Canada, France, Italy, and Mexico, which together purchased about 70 percent of total 1963 exports of this product. Exports of 16-mm. sound projectors remained steady. In the period 1961-63, annual exports of this product amounted to about $2 million. Canada, Mexico, Sweden, Venezuela, and Vietnam were the five leading markets in 1963. Exports of 16-mm. silent projectors and 35-mm. and over projectors in 1963 were lower than in 1962.

Other Motion Picture Equipment

Sound Reproducing Equipment.--Exports of motion picture sound reproducing equipment in 1963, $562,762, were about 17 percent lower than in 1962 (table 19). Canada, the largest export market in 1963, has increased its purchases each year since 1961, buying $207,901 in 1963. Other leading markets were Mexico, Pakistan, and the United Kingdom. Exports to Japan, the leading market in 1962, $184,641, dropped to $9,871.

Arc Lamps.--Exports in 1963 were valued at $197,761, about 30 percent higher than in 1962, but slightly lower than in 1961 (table 19). Leading markets were Canada, Mexico, Colombia, and Hong Kong, in that order.

Motion Picture Screens.--Exports of motion picture screens increased to $2,914,339 (table 19), about 31 percent higher than in 1962, continuing the steady annual rise in foreign sales which began in 1959 when exports were valued at $1,257,228. West Germany, where purchases have been increasing since 1960, was the leading market in 1963, buying $558,634. Canada and the United Kingdom were next in importance. Other major markets were France, Sweden, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Belgium, and Italy, all taking exports in excess of $100,000.

Motion Picture Projection Equipment and Parts, n.e.c.--Exports of this type of equipment continued to increase, 1963 purchases being valued at $3,644,671, about 18 percent higher than in 1962 (table 19). More than one-third of these exports went to Canada. Exports to the United Kingdom were up sharply--$773,823 compared with $313,364 in 1962. Other leading markets were Mexico and France.

Motion Picture Studio Equipment.--Exports of motion picture studio equipment increased sharply in 1963. Their value was $3,611,761 compared with $2,659,547 in 1962 and $3,213,086 in 1961 (table 19). Exports to Canada ($705,195) were about 50 percent higher than in 1962 ($466,570). Exports also increased substantially in all but 2 (the United Kingdom and Italy) of the other 12 leading markets.

Motion Picture Film, Unexposed.--Exports of unexposed motion picture film in 1963 were at about the 1962 level but slightly higher than in 1961. Value figures for these years are $22,554,057 (1963); $22,740,045 (1962); and $20,457,835 (1961). Unexposed film accounted for more than 53 percent of 1963 exports of all motion picture items ($42,432,894).

Exports of unexposed film 35-mm. and over, positive and negative, dropped slightly in 1963. Their value was $11,326,371; 1962 exports were valued at $11,808,640 (table 20). Exports to Japan, the leading foreign market in 1961-63, increased to $2,324,759 from $1,902,551 in 1962. Exports to Spain, the second leading market, amounted to $1,521,722, about the same as in 1962. Mexico, the only other country purchasing over $1 million of these products, bought $1,199,780. Exports to West Germany, the United Kingdom, and Italy decreased. Other principal markets were Canada, the Philippines, Argentina, Australia, Sweden, Brazil, and Hong Kong.

Exports of unexposed 16-mm. film, positive and negative, in 1963 ($6,946,444) were slightly higher than in 1962 ($6,658,682). Almost 70 percent of 1963 exports were in negative films. Japan, again the leading export market, purchased $2,114,138, up from $1,857,743 in 1962; Canada, next in rank, purchased $1,047,994; and Australia, third, purchased $734,957. Other important markets were Mexico, Switzerland, West Germany, and Sweden.

Foreign sales of 8-mm. unexposed films, positive and negative, in 1963 ($4,281,242) almost exactly equaled 1962 sales, but exceeded 1961 exports of $2,918,216 by more than $1 million. Canada again was the leading market, purchasing $542,149, followed by Switzerland ($468,379) and Spain ($373,056). Exports to Switzerland, Spain, Netherlands, and Belgium increased in 1963; exports to Canada, Austria, Republic of South Africa, and Mexico declined.

IMPORTS BY PRODUCT CLASSIFICATION

STILL CAMERAS

In 1963, the United States imported 1,287,791 still picture cameras valued at $19,824,192 (table 23), 8 percent fewer in quantity and 14.7 percent less in value than 1962 imports (1,400,235 units valued at $23,217,275). Purchases from Japan, the principal supplier, increased--from 812,801 units valued at $10,587,660 in 1962 to 875,065 units valued at $10,682,700 in 1963, but imports from West Germany declined--from 198,332 units valued at $10,974,862 in 1962 to 144,223 units valued at $7,865,362 in 1963. Japan's gain--7 percent in unit shipments--further strengthened its hold on the U.S. still camera trade, but West Germany's position slipped, as its loss in unit shipments--27.3 percent--indicates. Imports from Sweden and the United Kingdom were up in 1963, but imports from East Germany, Italy, and the Netherlands dropped sharply. Shipments from Switzerland and Hong Kong were slightly lower than in 1962.

MOTION PICTURE CAMERAS

Imports of motion picture cameras in 1963 exceeded 1962 imports, totaling 311,105 units valued at $10,903,233 (table 24), compared with 1962 imports of 287,434 units valued at $9,880,817, a value gain of 10 percent. Imports from Japan, the leading supplier, increased from 264,320 units valued at $7,125,701 in 1962 to 271,886 units valued at $7,573,764 in 1963. Purchases from Switzerland, second in rank, declined from 20,852 units valued at $2,253,546 in 1962 to 16,035 units valued at $1,781,824 in 1963. Imports from the other major suppliers--West Germany, France, the United Kingdom, and Austria--increased in both quantity and value.

Full-year data on imports of 8-mm. movie cameras are available for the first time this year. About 80 percent of all movie cameras imported in the United States in 1963 were the 8-mm. type. Japan, which supplied the bulk of these imports, shipped 247,979 units valued at $6,941,202 (table 25).

CAMERA PARTS

Imports of camera parts, both motion and still, declined 7.6 percent in 1963 to $3,520,660 from $3,808,785 in 1962 (table 26). West Germany remains the principal supplier, although its shipments continue to decline, dropping in 1963 to $2,197,018 from $2,295,227 in 1962. Shipments from Japan and Switzerland, the second and third leading suppliers, also declined in 1963.

PHOTOGRAPHIC LENSES, IMPORTED SEPARATELY

Imports of photographic lenses, which had decreased in 1962, turned upward in 1963 owing almost entirely to a sharp increase in shipments from Japan; 287,954 lenses valued at $2,270,957 were purchased from that country in 1962 compared with 393,698 lenses valued at $2,514,670 in 1963, an increase of 36.7 percent in quantity and 10.7 percent in value (table 27). Shipments from West Germany dropped in number and value; shipments from Switzerland, Sweden, and Canada increased.

PHOTOGRAPHIC FILM

U.S. imports of photographic film of all types continued to climb, setting another record in 1963;

purchases valued at $24,262,775 were more than 3 percent higher than the 1962 total of $23,530,811 (table 28). Belgium maintained its position as the principal supplier, although its shipments--$12,977,444--were 5.4 percent lower than in 1962. West Germany's sales to the United States jumped 60 percent, from $1,683,491 to $2,695,295. Shipments from the United Kingdom, Italy, and Japan also increased, but shipments from France dropped sharply. Belgium furnished, by value, 57.4 percent of the roll film, 48.9 percent of the X-ray film, 42.7 percent of "other film," and 78.9 percent of the sensitized, unexposed, motion picture film. West German shipments increased in all categories, but the highest gains were made in roll film, X-ray film, and motion picture film. Imports of X-ray film from the United Kingdom continued to increase, and in 1963 comprised 35.4 percent of total U.S. imports of this type of film.

PHOTOGRAPHIC PAPER

Imports of sensitized photographic paper declined to 8,114,083 pounds valued at $9,951,287, from 8,777,932 pounds valued at $10,972,433 in 1962 (table 29). Belgium supplied 54.1 percent of the total value of 1963 imports, although the value of its shipments were 21.9 percent lower than in 1962. On the other hand, both quantity and value of West German shipments increased, by 18.6 percent and 5.3 percent, respectively. The United Kingdom and Japan also increased their exports to the United States in 1963.

Imports of blue and brown print and similar sensitized papers also declined in both quantity and value in 1963. Quantity and value of imports of "heat-sensitive paper for duplicating and recording," a new classification established September 1, 1963, are given for the period September-December 1963 in table 29.

EXPOSURE METERS

Imports of exposure meters from Japan--269,714 units valued at $830,894--were 22.9 percent lower in quantity and 12.6 percent lower in value than in 1962 (table 30). Imports from West Germany increased from 55,879 units valued at $318,649 in 1962 to 61,742 units valued at $347,078.

FLASHGUNS, DEVICES AND PARTS

Imports of flashguns, devices, and parts declined slightly in 1963 to $2,920,797, compared with $3,033,802 in 1962 (table 31). West Germany furnished $1,724,385, 5.3 percent less than in 1962. Japan furnished 8.5 percent less than the 1962 total of $1,058,604.

OFFICE COPYING MACHINES AND PARTS

Imports of office copying machines and parts from West Germany, the principal supplier in 1963, increased to $525,400, and comprised 48 percent of the total imports--$1,094,239 (table 32). Purchases from the Netherlands, previously the principal supplier, dropped from $379,310 in 1962 to $189,823 in 1963.
